Name: GEORGE
Surname: SOURLANTZIS
Citizenship: GREEK
E-mail: gsourlantzis@gmail.com

Short Biographical Note:

My name is George and I am a student at the National Technical University of Athens, studying mechanical engineering. I attended Athens College in elementary, junior high and high school. I have participated in several competitions in mathematics and astronomy. I am currently in my 5th and last year of my studies, working on my thesis on bioengineering. I applied to the summer school in order to expand my knowledge on computer based subjects that in my opinion will be dominant over the next years. Also, I am confident that I will meet people from different countries but with common interests, having similar goals and desire for knowledge. Although I will participate in the first module only, I hope that being taught by experienced professors will be very beneficial and rewarding. I am looking forward for the 28th of June.

Now I'm studying third year in department f Informatics and Applied Mathematics. During my years at YSU I understood that there is only one way to reach goals – it is self-education and I'm trying to do that. I also like drawing, photography and music. I studied in the Art School No. 3, in Yerevan, in department of Fine Arts.

Name: Karapet
Surname: Kostandyan
Citizenship: Republic of Armenia
E-mail: karapet.kostandyan@gmail.com

Short Biographical Note:

I was born on May 4, 1991, in Armenia. I studied in "Quantum" College, which specializes in advanced physics and mathematics studies. During my last years in school I've participated in various international Olympiads, such as "IOI 2006", Mexico and "IOI 2007", Croatia. After graduation, I enrolled at Yerevan State University, Faculty of Informatics and Applied Mathematics. I've just finished my third year, during them I've thrice participated in the semifinals of The ACM International Collegiate Programming Contest as well as various other regional programming contests.

I enjoy programming contests and algorithmic problems they propose. I'm also interested in graph theory, AI programming, as well as many other practical and theoretical areas of computer science.

Besides programming, I'm also interested in art and art history. Apart from my regular studies I attend Fine Art studio-college of National Center of Aesthetics, where I participate in seminars on art history, draw and create sculptures. And three of my sculptures were exhibited at the "12th Annual Festival of Alternative Art".

| | I was born in Heraklion, Crete in 11/12/1988 where I studied for the next twelve years at Experimental Primary School and Experimental High School. Back to 2006, when I was accepted at the Computer Engineering and Informatics Department at the University of Patras, following successful high school national exams. Nowadays it's the fourth year of my studies (one year before my graduation) and I have almost completed my studies, bearing in mind that the last year will be spent for the preparation of my Thesis. So being really close to being an engineer, it's my "duty" to always learn about the development of my science. Therefore this summer school is an excellent opportunity and also really close to my academic interests. But the main reason I decided to participate in AIT's summer school is its really high reputation between informatics students and professors, so I am sure that it will prove to be much more than a seminar. |

My major orientations are Communications- Computer Networks and Programming Languages. I've had my practical training at the Network Operations Center of University of Athens where I provided Greek school network users with technical support and acquired valuable experience in networking technologies. I also worked as an English teacher for four years. As far as my personal attributes are concerned, I have a team spirit. I am very communicative and eager to learn new things.

Name: Dafni
Surname: Kaforou
Citizenship: Greek
E-mail: daphne.kaforou@gmail.com

Short Biographical Note:

Currently, I am a second year undergraduate student at Athens University of Economics and Business in the department of Informatics. After graduated from Experimental Senior High School Anavryta in June 2008 (grade 19/20), I decided to continue my studies in Computer Science. Until now, I have attended a wide variety of courses, spanning from Mathematics and Economics to advanced courses in Computer Software, Hardware and Networks. During the first two years of my studies I accomplished various projects such as development of a database in SQL, digital system design in VHDL and implementation of Computational Mathematic problems in Scilab. As for foreign languages, I am proficient in English and French. Currently I am attending a seminar course about the global economic crisis at the Free University of Athens. In April 2007 I attended a seminar and training course at the European Center of Nuclear Research (CERN). In my spare time I enjoy playing tennis, swimming and reading literature.
